Benefits of Membership into the Fraternity

Freemasonry offers a unique journey of personal growth, reflection, and connection. Our initiations open the door to deeper insight and a richer understanding of the world around you. Along the way, you'll find genuine fellowship with men who share a desire to improve themselves and support one another.
We welcome good men from all walks of life and from many different faith traditions, meeting as equals under the shared belief in a Supreme Being, While Freemasonry doesn't teach a specific theology, it encourages learning, reading, and thoughtful exploration so that each person can discover the answers they seek.

To Learn More

If you're curious and want to learn more, we invite you to join us for fellowship every Tuesday at 6 PM at 741 E. Whipple Street in Show Low, except during the weeks of holidays such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Years Eve, or Labor Day, so as not to interfere with family events.

You're always welcome.

The higher degrees and orders of Freemasonry sponsor many philanthropies for Medical research and hospitals such as the Scottish Rite, York Rite, and Shrine.

About White River Lodge

The lodge is grounded in our three principal tenets—Brotherly Love, Relief, and Truth. This theme challenges each of us to live these tenets not just in Lodge, but in our daily lives through acts of kindness, offering support to those in need, and living with honesty and integrity.

Our Past Grand Master, Leigh Creighton, reminded us that Masonry is not merely a membership—it is a calling to live better, serve more, and walk uprightly. Website for Grand Lodge: azmasons.org

Vision Statement

Our Lodge seeks men with good spiritual values who seek friendships and fellowship with men of similar values. When you join a Lodge, you do not simply become a member; you become an important part of the Lodge if you are active and involved.
Many Masons are active in Freemasonry throughout their entire lives. Active Masons can be a part of a Lodge on a local level, be involved with other Lodges in their area, and with Masons throughout the world.

Freemasonry also encourages its members to become better family men, more devoted members of their respective churches, and more enlightened citizens.
